

Medium Term Planning

Year 4

Spring 2024 Second Half Term

English	Mathematics
Our Spring 2 term begins with a focus on descriptive	Year 4 continue to make a fantastic effort towards writing, drawing on inspiration from 'Mission Possible' by	improving their times table recall ready for their times Kat Pennington. We will also take a cross curricular	table check: remember to practice your times tables as much as possible! This half term we will focus on approach to letter writing this half term. Our history trip to Holy Island provides a fantastic opportunity to write a	number skills. We will develop our understanding of recount in the form of a letter.	fractions and decimals.
Art & Design	Computing
To compliment our investigative learning of the Vikings in	Year 4 will explore the inside of computers this half history, we will explore drawing objects and pictures from	term. They will develop their understanding of how the this era. We will develop sketching skills and use of	different parts within computers and mobile devices different pencils and strokes to ensure the correct	make them work effectively. proportions and shading in our sketches.
Design & Technology	Geography
Leading on from our previous learning in science around	Next term we will be developing our locational and electricity and electrical circuits, we will plan, design and	place knowledge. We will explore time zones across build a torch! We will recycle plastic bottles to form the	the world and identify and describe the significance of body of our torches and use materials such as cardboard	the Greenwich meridian. We will also practice and split pins to create a switch for our torches.	identifying lines of longitude and latitude, as well as countries across the globe.
History	Music
This half term we will learn all about the Vikings and visit	Year 4 will continue to develop their ability to play the Holy Island! The children will be able to place the Vikings	chime bars individually and as part of ensemble with on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias;	increased fluency and control. We will enhance our
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time.	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation.
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE)	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE)
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing.
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government.	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government.	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team.
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?'. Pupils will engage with a range	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Science
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?'. Pupils will engage with a range	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to exploring this exciting topic, discovering how sound is
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?'. Pupils will engage with a range of sources to explore who Jesus was and learn about the	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to exploring this exciting topic, discovering how sound is produced and travels whilst working scientifically to
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?' . Pupils will engage with a range of sources to explore who Jesus was and learn about the significance of the Easter story for some Christians. We	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to exploring this exciting topic, discovering how sound is produced and travels whilst working scientifically to make links between volume, strength, distance and
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?'. Pupils will engage with a range of sources to explore who Jesus was and learn about the significance of the Easter story for some Christians. We will also explore a range of prophecies and miracles and	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Science Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to exploring this exciting topic, discovering how sound is produced and travels whilst working scientifically to make links between volume, strength, distance and surroundings.
on a timeline; study a range of sources which contain bias; describe the struggle with Anglo-Saxon communities for the kingdoms of England and consider change and continuity over time. Personal Social Health & Economics Education (PSHE) Our topic for this half term is citizenship. We will explore the importance of human rights and caring for the environment. Additionally, we will look at community diversity and groups, as well as exploring the role of local government. Religious Education (RE) In the second half of our spring term, we will focus on the question 'Who was Jesus?' . Pupils will engage with a range of sources to explore who Jesus was and learn about the significance of the Easter story for some Christians. We will also explore a range of prophecies and miracles and link these to beliefs about Jesus.	knowledge of the interrelated dimension of music and use this learning to support musical improvisation. Physical Education (PE) Pupils will enjoy developing their physical skills in athletics, focusing on running, jumping and throwing. Year 4 will have the opportunity to develop their techniques and skills, understanding the importance of fitness and science whilst partaking in competitions as both individuals and as part of a team. Science Sound is all around us! We are looking forward to exploring this exciting topic, discovering how sound is produced and travels whilst working scientifically to make links between volume, strength, distance and surroundings. Foreign Languages Curriculum (MFL) ns this half term. We will develop our ability to pronounce